AWARDS

Year after year, in survey after survey, Coosa Valley Credit Union is consistently named as one of the best places to do your banking. In 2019, the credit union was once again named a "Best-in-State" credit union by Forbes magazine. This is the second year the Rome-based credit union has made the list. CVCU is one of only five credit unions in Georgia to be recognized by Forbes. CVCU was selected for the honor following a Forbes' survey of financial services consumers across the U.S., including those in CVCU's primary market areas. Survey participants were asked to evaluate credit unions based on the criteria of trustworthiness, digital services, financial advice, branch service and general satisfaction. In addition to being selected as a top credit union in Georgia, this honor also places CVCU amongst only 3.1% of banks and credit unions nationwide who earned the recognition.

In addition, CVCU was named the Best Credit Union in the 2019 Rome Life Magazine's Best of Rome Spotlight. This follows a survey of the local Rome community.

"We are proud of this accomplishment and truly humbled that our members recognize the value in what we work hard to provide each day to help them reach their financial goals. We wouldn't be here without their support, and we will keep working hard to exceed their expectations," states Andy F. Harris, CVCU's President and Chief Executive Officer.

CVCU President/CEO Andy F. Harris Nominated for 2019 IMPACT Award

CVCU President/CEO Andy F. Harris

CVCU President and CEO Andy F. Harris has been nominated for an IMPACT Award by the Cartersville-Bartow Chamber. The IMPACT Awards are designed to recognize emerging leaders within the Chamber community. These individuals are leading the field in their line of work and are making a significant difference in their community through their service to others. Harris was nominated for his exemplary leadership, direction and passion for putting people before profits within the Northwest Georgia community.

"We are extremely proud of Andy for being nominated for this well-deserved award," said Cleve Hartley, Board Chairman for CVCU. "Andy fully embodies what being a progressive leader is about, and his dedication to shaping positive change within the community has significantly impacted our members, employees and organizations. We are very fortunate to have someone of his caliber leading our team." Final winners will be announced November 5th at the Chamber's Quarterly Luncheon.
